Nonresponsive

I am really busy working in our emergency response center (in Dallas) taking care of the Gold King Mine Spill that took place about 10 days ago near Durango. Lots of heat of EPA but what people don't want to talk about is that we tried to get into the area for about 10 years and the locals did not want the stigma of a EPA site. So here we are.

Hope life is smiling on you.

Love you lots.
